We deliver results beyond the surface

Blasting

We design and manufacture abrasive blasting machinery. From a small 1028 blast machine, perfect for small spaces and offshore, through to enclosed suction cabinets, to large containerised blast rooms installed on site. We can supply the optimal solution for your project.

Our design team and engineers are able to create turnkey solutions for your requirements.

We stock a range of parts and spares for all our machinery. We also stock an extensive collection of personal protective equipment.

Abrasives

We have a wide range of abrasives available for use with a variety of applications.

Whether you need to remove rust, an existing surface finish or achieve a specific surface profile we have an abrasive to suit your needs.

Our abrasive facility holds a large stock of abrasives. We can even mix abrasives specific to your needs.

Recycling and disposal is also available for your spent material. We can arrange collection to suit your schedule.

Powder

We are the largest Gema distributor in the UK for all your powder coating equipment.

The range of products include the Gema OptiFlex Pro manual gun systems, Gema classic manual powder booths and fully automatic systems.

We supply full service backup and spare parts to support Gema equipment.

We can also offer full turnkey powder coating plants including conveyor systems, dry ovens, cure ovens and pre-treatment systems.

Servicing

We are able to offer a comprehensive servicing package and aftermarket care to our customers.

SurfacePrep is the UK's leading manufacturer of abrasive surface preparation equipment. We offer a full range of maintenance and repair options with packages to enable customers to optimise their blasting processes.

Our servicing team can service all blasting equipment, Graco fluid handling equipment and Gema powder coating equipment. Our team of service engineers are able to visit you onsite as well as having your equipment repaired and tested at our facilities.

Paint

We offer a full range of Graco paint spray equipment. This ranges from electric, petrol driven or air powered portable spray units.

We have the solution for any paint spray application including plural component systems.

The full range of paint hoses and accessories are also available.

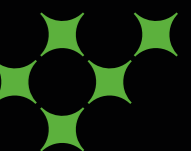

Hire

We offer an extensive range of hire equipment. This includes a full range of portable blasting equipment, paint spray equipment, compressors, dust extraction and abrasive recovery systems.

Hire can be arranged for a short or long term basis to suit your requirements.

Delivery and collection can be arranged throughout the UK.
